Frida Kahlo
* 6 July 1907, † 13. July 1954
Frida Kahlo is the most famous artist in Mexico, if not in Latin America

Performances

- To her myth contributed to her eventful life: her illness, her suffering, her marriage to Diego Rivera, her infidelity and her affairs. Add to that their revolutionary zeal and passionate nationalism.
- Despite some successes, she did not receive a true tribute to her work during her lifetime, but only long after her death.
- She is one of the most important representatives of the popular development of Surrealism, with her work sometimes showing elements of New Objectivity.
- Your images have been officially declared a „National Cultural Property“ by the Mexican government.
- Her full-body self-portrait Raíces posted $5.6 million in auction proceeds in May 2006, making it the most expensive image of a Latin American artist to date.
